Hemmor's lair is located in the Shrine of the Lost, beneath the steps to the southeast corner of the floor. The player may enter from that path at any time once the area is cleared. His lair consists of a single crypt with a large, high-tech tomb in the center. To the south, a staircase in a room leads to the top floor. On those floors, the player may encounter a number of enemies, though they are mostly low level. From the center, the player can find two more crypts: The first is a small, ornate chamber, the second is a small sarcophagus with a corpse inside. The sarcophagus contains a book that can only be opened by the player, and an unlocked door.
